Council Member Greene requested further explanation of the capital project ordinance. Mr. Jeffery Yates, Assistant City Manager, stated this is for pedestrian improvements, stormwater improvements, and hardscapes. The kiosks have arrived and are awaiting installation. Mayor Colvin stated when the Market House became a discussion in 2020, the North Carolina Department of Justice (NCDOJ) led city-wide conversations over several months on how to move forward. The recommendation was if the Market House was preserved, to share the history and story of the property. The State provided $500,000.00 for the renovation of the property. Dr. Douglas Hewett, City Manager, stated there are multiple phases to the project and the first phase was the unexpected but significant repairs to the clock tower, roof, lighting, and stormwater. Staff also made strategic decisions to ensure that when the pavement was done, it was done only once.

The new lighting are LEDs and can be changed to any color. The public will have access to 55-inch kiosk screens to learn the story and history of Fayetteville. Staff are working on content for the kiosks, but with the wi-fi capabilities, the kiosks information can be updated and changed as needed. Mr. Byron Reeves, Deputy Public Services Director, stated the pedestrian improvements include expanding the brick footprint, upgraded pedestrian approaches with pedestrian islands from all sides, two crosswalks with the Hay Street approach, including an Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) compliant ramp. The high visibility crosswalks will be brick paved. There is one catch basin on the inside of the roundabout and additional inlets will be added to ensure there will not be standing water. The project required permission from the State Historic Preservation Office in November and received approval in January. The anticipate project completion is before the end of November 2026.

Council Member McMillan asked how the public can provide recommendations on what information can be added to the kiosks. Dr. Hewett stated there were over 600 responses in what should be included at the Market House. The project was headed by Ms. Yamile Nazar, Human Relations Director, to lead community groups and Dr. Hewett recommended reengaging the group to come up with a work plan on how to complete the conversations.

Discussion ensued.

The local fund is managed by a five-member board, made up of two individuals elected by the Fire Department, two appointed by the City Council, and one by the State Fire Marshal. The board oversees a supplemental retirement plan that provides a yearly stipend to retirees. Any firefighter that retires in good standing with at least 20 years of service is eligible. 9.01 Receive the FY26 3rd Quarter Strategic Performance Report

Mr. Chris Lowery, Strategic and Performance Analytics Manager, and Mr. Andrew Brayboy, Senior Corporate Performance Analyst, presented this item with the aid of a PowerPoint presentation. Mr. Lowery stated this update reflects continued progress across Council's strategic priorities and highlights how departments are translating strategy into measurable outcomes throughout the community. Mr. Lowery stated the data provided in the quarterly report are what is considered lagging metrics, which reflect the results of past actions, not what is happening in real time, while some measures are also heavily influenced by broader economic conditions, resident participation, and market activity. Because of that, staff continues monitoring trends closely and making proactive adjustments where needed as we move into the final quarter of Fiscal Year 2026 (FY26).

Mr. Brayboy provided an overview of the FY26 strategic priorities: Priority One (1) - Ongoing commitment to a comprehensive approach to community safety; Priority Two (2) - Enhance economic growth throughout the City; Priority Three (3) - Continue the City's commitment to revitalization efforts and housing needs; Priority Four (4) - Evaluate and expand transportation and other connectivity for residents; and Priority Five (5) - Increase Parks and Recreation opportunities for youth engagement and interaction.

Priority one continues to deliver measurable results in prevention, response, and community collaboration. With three quarters of FY26 complete, the majority of comprehensive safety metrics are at or ahead of pace. The Fayetteville Cares Day Resource Center recorded 233 unique interactions, bringing the year-to-date total to 1,084 — already 90 percent (%) of the annual target. The Center now works with 49 active community partners, well above the annual goal of 30. The Office of Community Safety (OCS) also continued expanding its impact across all core program areas by awarding 22 Community Safety Micro-Grants totaling $115,000.00. Behavioral health support also saw strong results, with 72 additional individuals accessing mental health services. OCS also supported 49 community engagement events during the quarter. All of the metrics were well above their goals.

The City's comprehensive approach to community safety continues to produce strong response and infrastructure outcomes. The Fire Department's 90th percentile response time improved to 7:19 minutes, meeting the annual target, while the Police Department's Priority 1 response time improved to 7:22 minutes — the strongest performance of the fiscal year and well within the City's target. Violent crime incidents are down 18% compared to baseline, more than double the annual reduction goal of 8%. Public Services also made significant progress on stormwater and drainage infrastructure, inspecting 31,054 stormwater assets. Crews also repaired, maintained, and inspected 14,656 linear feet of open conveyances.

Priority two reflects continued economic development momentum despite broader market uncertainty, with approximately $1.99 million invested through Economic and Community Development grants and loans. Several market indicators also improved during the quarter, including a decline in the citywide vacancy rate from 6.23% in Quarter 1 to 5.75% in Quarter 3, along with steady growth in commercial permitting activity from 35 permits in Quarter 1 to 75 permits in Quarter 3. Staff continues to adjust programs and improve accessibility and participation. Development Services maintains timely permit review and approval processes despite increasing workloads and staffing constraints. Overall, Quarter 3 demonstrated continued economic investment, improving market conditions, and proactive operational planning.

Priority 3 reflected continued progress in neighborhood stabilization, housing assistance, and long-term revitalization efforts throughout the city. The City partnered with Fayetteville Urban Ministry and Fayetteville Area Habitat for Humanity to provide critical or emergency repairs for two homeowners and assisted five first-time homebuyers through the Homebuyer HERO Program, bringing the year-to-date total to 27 homeowners assisted. The Murchison Choice Neighborhoods Grant Application was submitted requesting approximately $26 million, with over $531 million in committed public and private leverage documented. During the quarter, 72 affordable housing units were added Cliffmore Park. Development Services and Economic and Community Development Department continues to coordinate stabilization efforts, prioritizing repairs over demolitions whenever possible, and protecting General Fund dollars whenever alternative funding sources are available. Approximately 8,574 violations were voluntarily corrected by property owners during the first three quarters and enforcement activity increased with 3,349 cases in Quarter 3. Ongoing blight removal, site preparation for the Operation Inasmuch Veterans Village project, and continued historic preservation initiatives related to the Broadell/Seabrook nomination process. Overall, quarter three reflected continued progress in stabilization, housing assistance, proactive enforcement, and long-term redevelopment positioning.

Priority 4 is the newest priority. Staff continues to progress in transportation and connectivity initiatives focused on improving mobility throughout Fayetteville with a focus on continued implementation of recommendations from the Title VI Fare and Service Equity Study. Transit service reliability continues to meet the annual target at 75%, while route frequency remained below target as staffing, fleet, and route restructuring evaluations continue. In partnership with Information Technology, 18 transportation and connectivity plans have been incorporated into the City's Master Connectivity GIS Overlay Map. Public Services constructed an additional 8,379 linear feet of sidewalk during Quarter 3, bringing the year-to-date total to 32,044 linear feet, surpassing the annual goal, and road resurfacing totals remained at 14.65 miles year-to-date. Marketing and Communications completed 38 communication efforts promoting transportation options and supporting rider awareness and engagement across digital and traditional channels. Finally, the Airport staff continues evaluating strategies to expand flight options and strengthen regional connectivity through potential public-private partnerships.

Priority 5 presented strong performance under the City's youth engagement initiatives during Quarter 3, with participation and programming levels exceeding many annual targets. The Orange Street School Project served 2,231 participants during the quarter, including 1,003 students through STEM-related initiatives. Parks & Recreation added 194 new hours of youth engagement programming and introduced eight new programming opportunities. Grant funding efforts exceeded annual targets, with $50,000.00 in grant applications submitted year-to-date. Enrollment remained strong across the Councilor-in-Training, Fayetteville-Cumberland Youth Council, and Police Activities League (PAL) programs. Additional progress included collaborative youth engagement events with OCS, continued investment in Parks & Recreation projects, and advancement of the 2018 Pedestrian Sidewalk Plan, with 87% of identified projects now complete.

Staff continues to advance Council's strategic priorities, reflecting meaningful progress and continued momentum across the organization. Soon, staff will bring back the FY27 Strategic Plan Priority Action Plan for Council consideration.

Mayor Colvin asked for the project the City is working on the data collection program with the major accounting firm, Deloitte. Mr. Lowery stated Fayetteville State University (FSU), and Deloitte reached out to discuss project opportunities. The City brought in FSU graduate and undergraduate business majors to create six teams with 4-5 students per team that was overseen by different department heads. The teams looked at the data and presented recommended changes for process improvement.

Discussion ensued regarding the employee and resident survey, small business loans, blighted structures, reducing the housing gap, the need to revisit environmental protections, open positions, stormwater, and the pedestrian plan.

MOTION: Council Member McMillan moved to receive the FY26 3rd Quarter Strategic Performance Report.
